These classes are open to all, without any educational prerequisites. They are not seminary level courses and do not earn official credit from Evangelical Seminary. These courses comprise the required training for those seeking the Local Elder’s license or Lay Preacher’s certification in the Evangelical Congregational Church, and may be applicable to pastoral credentials for other denominations as well.
Theology I – Knowing God

September 1 – October 13, 2015 • 6:30 – 9:15 p.m.
Instructor: Lucas Ndaro, MDiv, MAR, ThM

This course introduces students to the study of knowing God. It covers such key concepts as God’s natural and special self-disclosure, person and character, and the nature and work of Jesus Christ. It also introduces students to a theological method to think, write and express their faith effectively and theologically.

Lucas Ndaro currently serves as the Director of Adult Discipleship at Cornwall United Methodist Church. Prior to this assignment he served at Nassa Theological College and the Family Life Counseling Center in Mwanza, Tanzania. He received his MDiv and MAR from Evangelical Seminary, and his ThM from Westminster Seminary. Lucas and his wife Limi live in Cornwall, PA, and they have four children.

Theology II – Seeing God at Work

October 27 to December 8, 2015 • 6:30 – 9:15 p.m.
Instructor: Rev. Kirk R. Marks, MDiv

The purpose of this course is to equip students to understand God’s working through His Son Jesus Christ and other core matters of the faith contained in Evangelical Congregational Articles of Faith five through twenty-five. Students will have the opportunity to use and develop the basic tools for thinking theologically. Discussion topics will include the person and work of Christ, salvation, apostasy, heaven and hell, the church, baptism and the Lord’s Supper.

Kirk R. Marks has been a pastor and denominational leader in the Evangelical Congregational Church for more than twenty years. He serves as a trustee on the board of Evangelical Seminary. Rev. Marks calls himself first and foremost a follower of Jesus, and then a systematic theologian with a pastoral calling. Rev. Marks is a graduate of Kutztown University and Evangelical Seminary. He currently serves as pastor of St. Paul’s EC Church in Reamstown, PA, where he lives with his wife Deborah and daughters Emily and Margaret.
